ERICK OSCAR

Songwriter · Producer · Artist

Bilingual songs built on acoustic guitar and real stories — moving between Christian, Gospel, Country, Pop, Ballads, Afrobeat, Reggaeton, Salsa, Bachata, Merengue, and Reggae, always in service of the lyric.

I write all my lyrics and then play the song with my acoustic guitar to land on the rhythm I want. I then use software with AI to add vocals and other instruments and do edits as needed.

BIOGRAPHY

About Erick Oscar

Erick Oscar

Erick Oscar has been playing acoustic guitar and writing songs for more than thirty years. He grew up listening to music every weekend — usually ballads and love songs — and still treats the guitar as therapy: a way to work through what a day leaves behind.

Born in Panamá, Erick has lived in the United States for 34 years and became an American citizen decades ago. Work has also taken him to postings across nearly every country in Latin America. That combination — Panamanian roots, an American home, and a life spent moving through Latin America — is what makes his catalog eclectic rather than a single genre.

He writes and sings in both English and Spanish, and draws from country, pop, ballads, Afrobeat, salsa, merengue, bachata, flamenco, vallenato, reggaeton, mariachi, and more. Country music holds a particular place for him — he hears it as deep, raw, and pure. Across every style, the standard is the same: the song has to say something.

HOW THE MUSIC IS MADE

"I write all of my lyrics and then play the song with my acoustic guitar to land on the rhythm I want. From there I then use music-production software with AI to select vocals and other instruments - to basically create the emotion in the music that I want from my lyrics and my guitar."

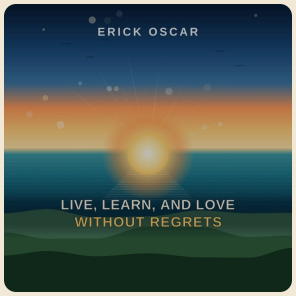

— Erick

"Music connects with our souls in a way that nothing else does."

An emotional ballad about facing uncertainty and holding onto faith and hope, arranged for raw lead vocal, acoustic guitar, piano, and a soulful SATB choir. Range & Influences

Erick doesn't write in a single genre — he writes to a feeling, then lets the style follow. Across eight albums that means moving between:

Country · Americana · Pop · Ballads · Afrobeat · Bachata · Reggaeton · Salsa · Merengue · Flamenco · Vallenato · Mariachi · Gospel Choir

LANGUAGE

Writes and records in both English and Spanish, often within the same catalog.

PROCESS

Writes all lyrics himself and plays each song on acoustic guitar to find the rhythm, then uses music-production software with AI to select vocals and other instruments.

BACKGROUND

Born in Panamá; U.S. resident for 34 years and an American citizen. Has lived and worked across nearly every country in Latin America.

THROUGH-LINE

A preference for songs with substance — raw, deep, and pure — over style for its own sake.
